John Lundin

John Lundin is a traveler in cinema, and a globetrotter, too. His passport is very well-traveled; not even Santa Claus treks to so many countries.

Lundin's movie career path is similarly well-traveled. He has been in distribution and exhibition, back and forth, for more than four decades, living all over the nation. He has been vice president of film for Carmike Cinemas since 2010.

"Studios and exhibitors are in a partnership," Lundin, 65, says of a career on both sides of the fence. "We agree or we argue verbally quite loud, but studios depend on exhibitors, and exhibitors depend on distributors. When it's all said and done, I need them and they need me. We agree 90 percent of the time. You have to get along."

Lundin grew up in Chicago but has several ties to Wisconsin. He spent many summer days at the cottages of both sets of his grandparents on Lake Delavan in Walworth County. He earned a degree in history and political science at Hillsdale College in the city of that name. He put off his plan of going to law school for at least a semester because he needed a job. He moved back in with his parents. But then opportunity came knocking – in a most delightful way, like pixie dust falling from the sky.

Lundin was at the wedding of a classmate's sister and struck up a conversation about golf with a man named Pat Halloran. Lundin impressed Halloran as a smart young man. Not long after, Halloran – district manager for Disney – contacted him about coming aboard as a salesman.

To date, Lundin has spent 13 years in distribution and 29 in exhibition.

Since taking that first movie distribution job in 1972, Lundin has lived in Cleveland, Buffalo, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, Dallas, Charlotte, Atlanta and now Columbus, GA.

That makes him a nation-trotter, and his list of countries visited goes far beyond that to being a globetrotter – in fact, make that a mega-globetrotter.

Lundin says that when he retires soon, he looks forward to "visiting the rest of the world that I've never seen. ... And I want to live a month in Paris, a month in New York City. I'm going to try different places until I find the place I want to be." He has especially fond memories of Cincinnati and his parents live in Michigan, but "I'll be a snowbird."

"Three tries to get to Tibet, but I made it. I drove on the top of the earth."

His favorite city has been Paris. His favorite country is China, and his favorite single place has been the Taj Mahal. "The awesome structure, the monument of love that Mughal Emperor Shah Jahan gave to the world, stands as a testimony of his intense love for his wife Mumtaz Mahal."

Intense love is exactly what Lundin has for the film industry – and for travel to this landmark in Agra, India, and everywhere in-between.

Dear John,

On behalf of Variety The Children's Charity of Southern California's board of directors, our members and the children we serve, congratulations on receiving the 2015 Heart Of Show Business Award.

This award is bestowed annually on an industry leader who epitomizes the philanthropic ideals of our charity. Your career of service to the motion picture industry and your commitment to improving the lives of those in need make you the perfect individual for this honor. You have long been an industry leader who has distinguished himself as someone committed to giving back to others and improving the motion picture community as a whole. When I asked you to accept the 2015 Heart Of Show Business Award with no restrictions on how we might honor you, your response was, "If we can raise a lot of money for kids, I'm all in!" Your love of people, friendship, travel and professionalism is exemplified by the way you live your life.

Together with Wanda, your Carmike family, Variety Tent 25 and your industry colleagues, we salute you today for the difference you have made throughout your career, to worthy causes and our industry.

Please accept our heartfelt thanks; you truly are a deserving recipient of the 2015 Heart Of Show Business Award.

With great respect and friendship,
